As retired Brig. Gen. Russell Howard, now of Bethel, listens intently (via an earphone) to a prebroadcast audio feed from the FOX Broadcasting studio in New York City, cameraman Tom Pakulski makes final video adjustments for Howard's live commentary Sunday afternoon on Islamic radicalism in Indonesia. Howard now offers frequent FOX analysis and commentary from his office at 2 Broad Street. Pakulski, Gould '79, is the owner of Energy Films, a Portland based film and video production company often subcontracted by FOX for Howard's broadcasts. As these preparations were underway inside Howard's office, other mission-related work was taking place on the street outside. (See Page 4).

FOX now calls regularly on Broad Street for terrorism commentary and analysis

By MICHAEL DANIELS

If your television is tuned to FOX on any given Sunday afternoon, there is a good chance you will catch a live glimpse of Bethel.

Not our great outdoors, nor our increasingly well-known recreational attractions, but simply a fellow sitting in a comfortably furnished, brick-lined office on Broad Street, listening to and answering questions.

That fellow is recently retired Brig. Gen. Russell Howard, founding director of the Combating Terrorism Center at West Point, and currently the director of the Jebson Center for Counter-Terrorism Studies at Tufts University's Fletcher School, in Boston.

For the past three months Howard has been providing analysis and commentary for FOX. His special areas of expertise are terrorism and the Far East.

For example, on Sunday, the day prior to President Bush's visit to Indonesia, Howard offered his assessment of the radical Islamist movement in years staying in inns and renting condominiums when visiting the area.

Howard, then a colonel, was head of West Point's Depart-

"Defeating Terrorism: shaping the new security environment," which was released the following year.

Now the FOX network is drawing on his expertise — and more often than not it comes from his ground-floor office in the mid-19th-century brick building at 2 Broad Street.

"I sometimes do the programs in one of two Boston studios that are close to my Fletcher School office at Tufts," Howard said, "but when I am relaxing on weekends and/or working in my Bethel office on weekdays, FOX will often send a camera crew and video truck to Bethel to broadcast my analysis and commentary live."

Working in front of a camera is nothing new for Howard. In the past he has been featured on "Sixty Minutes," "The NBC that country — which has the largest Muslim population of any country in the world.

Live from 2 Broad Street Since his retirement from the Army last year, Howard and his wife, Paula, have lived in Bethel, in a condo at the Carriage House.

They purchased the condo in 2003, after spending several ment of Social Sciences, and Bethel provided a perfect getaway from his busy schedule there.

Especially for writing — Howard is the co-author of two college-level textbooks on terrorism, "Terrorism and Counterterrorism: understanding the new security environment," published in 2002; and

Recount extends Carter's margin of victory

By MICHAEL DANIELS

Democrat Tim Carter of Bethel will be the new state representative for Maine House of Representatives District 91.

In a recount Monday afternoon, Carter more than quintupled his original 11-point lead over his Republican opponent, Nancy Bessey of Dallas Plantation.

The recount showed Carter beating Bessey by 57 votes, 2173-2116.

Carter's additional votes in the recount came largely from Hanover and Bethel.

He picked up 36 votes in Hanover, where his correct total of 84 votes had initially been transposed to 48.

And in Bethel he added 22 votes, while Bessey added 8,

Sunday River joins other ski areas in putting its money behind wind power

By ALISON ALOISIO

Sunday River Ski Resort has joined the fight against global warming and warmer winters by putting its money into wind-generated electrical power.

That does not mean the resort will be running its snow guns, lifts and lodges on wind-mill power. It means the money the ski area pays for electricity will go to support wind-generated electricity elsewhere, and to the development of future wind power.

Sunday River and its sister American Skiing Co. resort, Sugarloaf, are buying 30 million kilowatt hours of renewable energy certificates (RECs), supporting wind-powered plants in the Midwest, according to a Sunday River press release. The purchase will offset 100 percent of the electricity the resorts actually consume off the power grid.

One certified REC has the environmental impact of indirectly reducing the emissions associated with one megawatt hour of electricity produced by a fossil fuel generator.

Proceeds from the certificates subsidize the construction and operation of renewable energy generation facilities, which then replaces energy from traditional fossil fuel sources on the national electric grid.

A higher price The purchase, made through Constellation NewEnergy, represents a cost increase for the electricity, according to a Constellation spokesman.

"Sugarloaf and Sunday River wanted to support wind power, because it's extremely clean," said Amy Richard, energy technology services manager for Constellation's New England office. "It would have

Gray bypass is open

CITIZEN STAFF/AP

Skiers and other north-bound motorists on Route 26 accustomed to a bottleneck in Gray finally have some relief.

An $8.2 million connector that formally opened last Thursday is expected to cut daily traffic in the town's center by 10,350 vehicles, or 40 percent, officials say.

The problems on the old Route 26 were apparent to all who use the road: trucks and commuters, along with skiers headed north to Sunday River and Mt. Abram.

Five major roads routes 4, 115, 202, 26 and 100 all converge like spokes on a hub in the village. The tieups at the intersection were bad enough that northbound traffic backs up to a Maine Turnpike exit, and sometimes onto the turnpike itself.

The new road that allows motorists to avoid the logjam begins at Route 202, just west of the turnpike interchange.

SHAME ON THE LITTERING SLOBS

To the Editor:

I have determined that there are some people in Bethel that are lost. It appears that some people think that when they are traveling along Intervale Road, they are at the "Bethel Transfer Station," which is actually across the river on Route 2. Intervale Road was a nice, clean country road.

On my most recent walk along Intervale Road I counted $2.50 in recyclable cans and bottles, in the distance of one mile. That would be fifty cans and bottle.

I see empty beer cans and bottles, empty soda cans and bottles, coffee cups from local establishments, empty cigarette packages, candy and food wrappers, and other various trash items.

It is truly difficult for me to believe that in this environmentally conscious day and age that so many people have so little regard for the environment.

Do you people have children, or do you plan to? What do you think will happen to these tin cans and plastic bottles? Are you not remotely concerned as to what the land will look like in just a few years? Do you exhibit these same consume-and-toss behaviors at home? After finishing a beer, do you just toss the can off the arm of your favorite recliner for the maid to collect on his or her next tour of duty? In that case, would you kindly send that person to Intervale Road and clean up after you there as well?

If you are wondering why I didn't pick up all of this trash, it's because my intention was to go for a walk, and I had no trash bags with me.

Frankly, I have no desire to pick up someone else's trash so thoughtlessly heaved out of their vehicle window. In summation I have one thing to say to these people: Shame on you!

CHRISTMAS FOR FAMILIES TIME

To the Editor:

Once again we are approaching the holiday season and Christmas for Family volunteers are looking for your donations and help to make a Christmas something special for some that would otherwise have little or nothing. Christmas for Families tries to help as many children of all ages as well as their parents (in the SAD44 district). Over the past 20-plus years the community has helped in so many ways.

There are a couple of ways you can help, one is to adopt a child or family. You let us know what size family or what age child you would like to adopt. We do not give out names or addresses but we give you ages, sizes and anything else we have for information that might be important. The other way is to donate money or buy a gift such as hat, mittens, books, toys, game, clothing or gift cards.

If you would like to adopt a family or donate to this project, please feel free to call Nina Wheeler at 836-3600 or 836-3663, leave a message if she is not available, she will return your call as soon as possible. Please know that this is all in the strictest confidence, even those who get adopted.

Also, if you need assistance call Nina and she will mail you an application or you may pick up one at Rebel Restaurant.

Our goal is to complete this project by Dec. 15.

We are also doing fundraisers such as selling calendars, a benefit bingo on Dec. 3 at 2 p.m., raffle and food sale at Jackson-Silver Post 68 in Locke Mills (875-2375).

LOVELY MEADOW AVAILABLE

To the Editor:

In regard to the recent misperceptions regarding the covered bridge and its availability for weddings and other functions, let me remind everyone that another option is readily available. The "meadow" at the northern end of the Screw Auger Falls parking area is a jewel. The terrain is flat, leading right up to the edge of the Bear River.

Recently, Linda and I were married there, and I can think of no setting more splendid, particularly during peak foliage. I would encourage anyone looking for a wedding venue to drive up and check out the meadow. Call the park manager, John Metcalf at 824-2912 (in season). I'm sure he'll be happy to "work with you."

ARTS SPACE THANKS

To the Editor:

For sixteen years I have been sharing the art work of my students in the Explorations Art Program with this community. For most of those years, the Summit Hotel has generously donated exhibition space.

Even though I am receiving this opportunity as a gift, they treat me with the utmost consideration.

I'd like to thank Dan Crooker and all his staff at Conference Sales at Sunday River for making our art opening last weekend possible. It was a very special day for so many of us.

REMEMBERING 'JUG'

To the Editor:

Let's get one thing straight. "Jug" Merrill was a pain in the neck. Not a single one of us who knew him was safe from any manner of practical joke that Jug could devise. I am sure that he looked down on us in the less-than-beautiful weather at his service just laughin' at all of us.

There was a time before the Bethel Airport became such a big deal that the public could use it as a place to take a walk for exercise. There were no fences surrounding it and the only people who used it were guys like Chris Merrill, who routinely landed his plane using a flashlight and a finger in the wind as a landing aid. I had gotten into the practice of going down to the airport to do some in-line skating just for the exercise. I used to play hockey, so I couldn't skate without a hockey stick. Jug tried his best to rent a bear suit in order to sneak up on me and scare the daylights out of me. He most certainly would have, but I would have hit him over his famous head with my hockey stick.

Every time he did some work for me, either at The Backstage or at our house, there would be a moment somewhere in the course of the job that you would hear Jug say, "oh, oh." I fell for it every time and asked with alarm, "what's the matter Jug?" "Oh nothin'," he would say and I had fallen for it again.

When we first came to town, he was one of the first people we met. He was the plumber in charge of making a broken-down old barn into a place of business. He insisted on a certain amount of money, and we thought, "uh oh, we're gonna regret this." Well we gave him the money, he set about doing the job and did it perfectly. We were more than satisfied. Some weeks later I got a call from him telling me that he had a check for me.

"A check for me, I asked? What for?" He explained that he didn't use all the money that he took from us and we had money coming back to us. I tried to tell him to forget it because the work was done so well and we were more than satisfied with the price. Jug wouldn't hear of it and insisted that we take the money back. Such was the honor of Jug Merrill.

Jug Merrill was my friend and although we're all the poorer for his loss, we are all more than enriched for having had him in our life.

God Bless, see ya a little later and at the Big Apple in the sky — have a medium coffee with cream and sugar waitin' for me.

WHY CHANGE LIFE THE WAY IT SHOULD BE?

To the Editor:

Is it good to outlaw my neighbors' use of a dooryard to store cars or trucks they may need parts from in order to keep their primary vehicles running?

Is it good to craft laws making siding mandatory on all houses in order to protect the beauty and investment of new houses and developers?

Is it good to enforce visual quality that would also force the raising of taxes on those who can afford to keep house in a more make-do manner?

Can we afford to include in our just welcome of new folks the making of ordinances that will change the character of this good place? If this is "the way life should be," why change it?

I live in a remote part of Bethel that abuts Woodstock, where a junk ordinance is under consideration.

SWIFTBOAT VETS NOT DISCREDITED

To the Editor:

In response to last week's letter from Seabury Lyon, the Swiftboat Veterans have not been discredited. There have been attempts to discredit them, some of which Mr. Lyon may have seen and believed.

Some of the "exhaustive research by responsible news organizations" was displayed by Dan Rather at CBS when he used information that was forged and easily proven to be had it been checked.

Jayson Blair of the New York Times called other people's stories his own and simply made up some "facts."

When the assault weapon ban was expiring I watched a "news" report showing an AK-47 being fired in full automatic mode (machine gun) and the commentator stated if the ban expired "semi-automatics" such as this would be on the streets everywhere.

I called the station and the news guy said it was his national feed and he hadn't checked it before airing it. I never saw a retraction or clarification.

Mr. Lyon is right, deliberate deception cannot be forgiven!

Sen. Kerry made his Vietnam service a part of his campaign. Someone else brought up his testimony in front of Congress that Vietnam vets were war criminals who had tortured people and cut off heads among other atrocities. Sen. Kerry allowed his Purple Heart and medal for valor to be used as a sign of his patriotism in an attempt to get veterans votes.

Someone else pointed out that he was on record at an anti war rally throwing his medals away. When this was pointed out to him, he stated that it was someone else's medals he had thrown not his own.

Mr. Lyon gave a website. I would suggest people read the book, "Unfit for Command." It is a story about Sen. Kerry's service, by a veteran.

I don't know how much of the money Mr. Lyon mentioned was actually donated to the "SBVT," but I do know they began by raising money from individual donations from veterans. I am a Vietnam veteran and I donated to them and am proud of it!

Senator Kerry is the outrage to veterans! I believe the group of veterans who stood up and told the truth about what they and Mr. Kerry did with no apologies or promises of personal gain. Whereas Mr. Kerry was running for president and wanted everyone's vote. His political career, his character and his reliability can all be summed up in his own words on record, "I voted for that bill before I voted against it."

As far as the term swiftboating having two meanings, one of which I left out, it is a matter of perspective. The people who supported Kerry think of it as a bad thing and the people who didn't support him think of it as a good thing. That is politics. I am a conservative and if someone feels I need to declare my "bias," there it is.

Is forging documents to discredit a candidate a "dirty trick"?

BOARD'S POSITION ON SCENIC BYWAYS

To the Editor:

RE: Scenic Byway Designation

The Bethel Board of Selectmen has asked me to prepare this letter to express its opposition to state or federal designation of any roadway within Bethel as a scenic byway.

The consensus of Board members' opinions is that governmental designation of a highway for aesthetic reasons creates an unacceptable future potential for restriction of land uses, both near and far from the road right-of-way. Governmental highway designation can lead to regulation, or outright prohibition, of land uses that would otherwise not occur through a local legislative process.

The very nature of state or federal designation suggests that an authority existing beyond municipal boundaries may exert regulatory influence over the objections of a majority of the local citizenry. Current examples of this condition in Maine include Shoreland Zones, Floodplain Zones, and the Saco River Corridor.

While the regulatory examples cited above provide an arguably widespread public benefit, the public benefit to be gained from regulation of private land solely for the preservation of motorists' views is dubious, when weighed against property owners' lost rights to make the highest and best use of their land.

On behalf of town officials, we thank you for your consideration.

bringing their respective totals to 773 and 519.

Bethel Registrar of Voters Christen Mason attributed the discrepancy to problems with processing absentee ballots under the guidelines of the new Help America Vote Act.

In Woodstock, where questions had been raised about ballot counting, Carter's total remained unchanged at 326, and Bessey gained one vote, for a total of 258. The vote totals for Milton Township (Milton residents vote in Woodstock) was unchanged by the recount.

Carter described the House race as a close one in which both candidates worked hard and stuck to the issues.

In 2004 he narrowly lost in an attempt to unseat incumbent Republican Arlan Jordrey (who is retiring due to term limits). This time around, he said Tuesday, "It's nice to come out on the winning side."

Briefly

Sunday River opens

NEWRY—Sunday River Ski resort opened to the public at 2 p.m. on Tuesday. "We've employed a combination of traditional and low energy snow guns depending on elevation and temperature to lay down as much snow as possible," said Sunday River Vice President of Operations Marvin Collins. "The next few nights look cold enough for continued snowmaking and we'll be taking advantage of every good hour. We got our few cold days that we needed just in time for the holiday." The resort was working to provide top-to-bottom skiing and riding as early as Wednesday. Once top-to-bottom terrain is open up to seven trails are expected to be available. An early season mini terrain park was also expected to be open by Wednesday. Uploading and downloading from the Locke Mountain Triple is currently required and open terrain is for advanced skiers and riders only.

Tree lighting moves down the road

WOODSTOCK—It won't be long before the lights go on on Woodstock's town Christmas tree. But this year's tree lighting ceremony, scheduled for Dec. 1, won't take place around the traditional fir on the common. Instead, a tree in front of the Whitman Memorial Library will display the lights of the season. Selectmen last year voted to use the smaller tree at the library because it is easier to decorate. Woodstock employees will be able to do the job, saving the town from bringing in a special lift to string lights through the upper branches of the tree on the common. Town officials said it would cost about $1,200 to hire a tree company to put up the lights. Selectman Judy Bennett said the new location will be safer for school children taking part in the lighting.

Safety advice from the BFD

BETHEL—The Bethel Fire Department provides these tips to keep safe during the winter season: 1) Test smoke detectors and change the batteries. 2) Have furnaces or heaters cleaned and serviced. 3) Inspect wood stoves and your stove pipes. 4) Have chimneys cleaned and inspected. 5) Keep the Christmas tree watered. 6) Make sure houses are properly numbered with a minimum of four-inch numbers.

Tourism budget should be bigger

AUGUSTA—The head of a private state tourism agency says Maine's $7.5 million tourism budget should be doubled or even tripled, but the money should not come from an increase in the state's 7 percent lodging and restaurant tax. Vaughn Stinson, chief executive officer of the member-based Maine Tourism Association, said raising the tax on meals and hotel rooms could hurt Maine's largest industry, which he said generates $2.3 billion in lodging and restaurant sales and supports 177,000 Maine jobs. Stinson's view contrasts with a recommendation in a Brookings Institution report released last month which calls for a 3 percentage-point increase in the state's lodging tax to 10 percent. The money would help to revitalize Maine towns, preserve open land and farms. Speaking to the Kennebec Valley Chamber of Commerce in Augusta last week, Stinson said Maine needs to ease a tax burden that's among the nation's highest. He said Maine's investment in tourism, funded partially by a share of the lodging and restaurant tax, is the largest among the New England states. The Washington, D.C.-based Tax Foundation says Maine had the highest state and local tax burden in the nation since 1997 and ranks seventh in total tax burden. While Maine tourism spending ranks tops in the region, it still lags far behind the nation's leader, Hawaii at $69 million, No. 2 Illinois at $48 million and No. 3 Pennsylvania at $33 million, according to figures posted on the American Hotel and Lodging Association's Web site.

Yodelin'

in her own right, Clark has won numerous musical awards, including being named five times as Maine's Country Music Association's Folk Artist of the Year. Her CD, "Yodelin' Live at The Outlook" was recorded at the Outlook Studio in Bethel, in front of a live audience. Accompanied by her frequent "partner in musical crime," Donnie Katlin of Bethel, Clark paid tribute to an art she feels she inherited from her father. "Yodeling is like laughing to music," Clark said. She carries on the art form not only because she enjoys it and it makes people smile, she said, but because she feels it is important to carry on the art that was such a part of her father's career. The original recording of "Yodelin' Live at the Outlook" was minimally edited, in order to convey the live aspect as much as possible.

"We opted to keep it simple, raw and real," Clark says in the introduction to the CD. "Yodelin' Live at The Outlook" is currently available on-line at the smasheasy.com, and at Clark's new website, www.jewelwhatever.com. It is also available at Bull Moose Music stores throughout New England, and locally at Maine Line Products, The Good Food Store, and Books-n-Things in Bethel. In December all the songs will be available at more than 160 download sites worldwide. Yodeling (at least according to one version of things) was originally developed as a means of communicating between Swiss mountain peaks. And now — in the perfect marriage of communication technologies old and new — Clark's yodels will be available as ringtones for cell-phones.

and runs parallel to the turnpike northward before connecting to Route 26 near Gray-New Gloucester High School. The project was completed seven months ahead of schedule, thanks in part to cooperative weather, said Shawn Smith, a project manager for the Maine Department of Transportation. "Everything kind of fell into place," he said. Sunday River Ski Resort spokesman Alex Kaufman said the bypass is good news for his company. "Anytime that Sunday River can be made more accessible it benefits both the resort and the community," said Kaufman. "We're thrilled at the completion of the bypass and the fact that it was finished seven months ahead of schedule." Gray residents hope that the reduction in traffic will render the downtown navigable to pedestrians, who've become accustomed to dodging cars. Town Manager Deborah Cabana said the change also can help Gray pursue its downtown revitalization efforts.

Wind

been difficult to purchase the quantity they intended from local sources, because there is so little wind that has been built locally and the certificates from those plants would nearly double their electricity costs. Purchasing certificates from the national market is more feasible and economical, and represents a cost increase of between 2 and 10 percent, depending on energy prices and the size of the purchase." (A plan for wind-generated power, known as the Redington Wind Farm, is proposed for the Sugarloaf region.) Thirty percent of the two resorts' current electricity purchase is renewable, as required and defined by the Maine Renewable Portfolio Standard requirement, Richard said. Those sources may include small hydro and biomass waste. The resorts become the largest purchaser and consumer of wind power in New England. The ASC resorts join Shawnee Peak in Bridgton and ski resorts in other parts of the country in supporting wind power. Pollutants reduced According to the press release, fulfilling the two resorts' electricity needs with zero-emission, non fossil fuel sources will keep more than 41 million pounds of carbon dioxide out of the atmosphere. That amount is equivalent to avoiding the CO2 emissions produced by 3,600 passenger cars each year and is the same amount of electricity needed to power more than 2,500 average American homes annually. The purchase of wind energy qualifies Sugarloaf and Sunday River to the EPA's Green Power Leadership

Club and supports continuing development of renewable energy sources nationwide. The move to wind power is the latest environmental program taken on by the resorts within their "comprehensive environmental initiatives," according to the release. Sugarloaf and Sunday River have invested in new snowmaking technology in the form of low energy snowguns, which use 40 percent less energy to make snow. Used vegetable oil from community and on-mountain restaurants at Sugarloaf is being recycled into biodiesel fuel for use in the resort's busses and grooming equipment. In addition to on-mountain bio-diesel use, the resort is also in discussions with the town of Carrabassett Valley to develop an environmentally friendly transportation system.

Howard

DOWNHOME WRENCHING—The satellite van that was in Bethel Sunday uses an impressive array of high-tech equipment to communicate with the world. But that equipment did not include such mundane gear as a spare tire, so when the van flatted, Geoff (here) and Buster Gaudreau brought a little lo-tech scrounging and wrenching to bear, ensuring the van could safely be sent on its way home to Massachusetts. (Photo: M. Daniels)

Evening News" with Tom Brokaw, NPR, CBS Radio, and a number of local affiliates in New York City and Canada. He has even done television talk shows in Uzbekistan and Croatia, and once acted in a movie shot in Taiwan (he was a bad guy). But the Bethel broadcasts are special, Howard said, because he has gotten to know the individual crewmembers who now show up here regularly. "FOX usually subcontracts their remote broadcasting work in this part of Maine," Howard said. The van (or sometimes a truck) with the satellite dish is operated by Video Link TV, a Watertown, Mass., firm. That vehicle, with the capabilities of a TV production studio, is under the command of broadcast production technician Kristin Paciorkowski. The camera and sound crew are from closer to home. The cameraman for the shoot is Tom Pakulski, a Wayne native and 1979 Gould Academy graduate who owns Energy Films, a film and video production firm based in Portland. The soundman is freelancer Jim Johansen of Westbrook. Both Pakulski and Johansen have broadcasting degrees from the University of Maine system. Get acquainted Following most Sunday afternoon shoots, cast and crew can all be found just up the street at the Gideon Hastings House, where Paula Howard (too nervous to watch her husband in front of a camera) awaits. All are happy to meet anyone who cares to stop by and chat.

Festive Craft Projects to Share With Your Friends!

Winter Friend Ornament

These are always a hit at our annual Christmas bazaar!

3 mini oval boxes in graduating sizes
craft glue
white, black and orange acrylic paint paint brush
12" x 1/2" homespun strip
3 mini buttons
toothpick
two small twigs
black ribbons

Glue each box bottom and lid together to prevent each from opening. Paint the large and medium boxes white and the small box black; let dry. Glue the medium box on top of the large box; glue small box, lid-side down, on top of the medium box. Wrap the homespun around the bottom half of the medium box for a scarf; glue to secure. Glue 3 buttons on the large box; dot 2 round eyes and a mouth on the top half of the medium box. Cut toothpick to desired length for nose; paint orange and glue to the medium box. Glue each twig to the sides of the large box for arms. Loop ribbon and glue on the top of the snowman for hanging.

Clip-On Mittens

Darling on a tree or attached to a bright holiday gift!

scissors
cardboard
felt in holiday colors
glitter
craft glue
wooden clothespins with springs

Cut a mitten shape from the cardboard; use as a pattern to trace mittens onto felt. Cut out mittens and decorate with glitter and scraps of felt using dots, stripes or holiday shapes. Glue a clothespin to the back of each mitten.

Candy Topiary

Don't we all wish candy grew on trees?!

block of floral foam
terra cotta pot
dowel
foam ball hot glue wrapped candies
moss
1 yard ribbon

Cut floral foam to fit in pot. Tuck dowel in foam. Secure foam ball on other end of dowel. Using hot glue, completely cover the foam ball with wrapped candies. Cover top of foam block with moss using hot glue. Tie ribbon around the center of the dowel.

Homespun Garland

Try using an old-fashioned gingerbread man cutter too!

spray adhesive
homespun fabric scraps
20"x30" white posterboard
star cookie cutter
scissors
hole punch jute
buttons

Use spray adhesive to glue a piece of homespun on each side of the posterboard, sandwiching it between the fabric. Using the cookie cutter as a stencil, cut posterboard into stars. Punch two holes, side by side, in the center of each star. String jute through holes of stars and buttons; hang from tree or window.

Puzzle Piece Snowflake

Use beads and sequins to add even more glittery color.

spray paint
8 to 10 small puzzle pieces
craft glue
40 to 50 small metallic beads
spray adhesive
floral wire

Spray paint front and back of puzzle pieces; let dry. Glue the pieces together, overlapping different sides, forming a snowflake design; glue on beads. Lightly spray adhesive over snowflake; immediately sprinkle on glitter. Use floral wire to attach the snowflake to your tree.

Berry Beaded Wreaths

Add a handful of gold beads for extra sparkle!

red nail polish
flat-head straight pins
red seam binding
8-inch foam wreath form
red beads, varying sizes
craft glue
red satin ribbon

Using the nail polish, paint the heads of the straight pins red; let dry. Pin one end of the seam binding to the wreath form, and wrap it around the entire form, overlapping it slightly to completely cover the form. Cut the end of the binding and secure to form with a pin. Slide a bead onto a pin, dip in craft glue and push the pin into form. Pin the larger beads onto the wreath first, then fill in any holes with the smaller beads. Continue pinning beads until the front and side of the form are covered completely. Loop the ribbon and secure with glue to hang.

Bethel

by Virginia Keniston
Brad and Judy Barker attended the New England Auto Show in Boston, Mass., recently. Their son, Donald of Kingston, N.H., accompanied them.

The Bethel area Red Hat Ladies, with 21 "Red Hatted Belles" attended a luncheon at the Gideon Hastings House on Broad Street, last Friday.

Those enjoying the mid-day lunch were Judy Barker, Amy Davis, Lucia Schwarz, Ginny Cole, Eleanor DeNormandie, Marlene Engdahl, Mary Keniston, Kathy Bennett, Rev. Gwyneth Bohr, Polly Davis, Lou Prada, Martha Martin, Ellie Jodrey, Sylvia Clanton, Sandra Savage, Dorothy York, Jean McGuire, Lorrie Hoeh, Jan Stowell, Dawn Giroux, and Dorothy Bartlett. Plans were discussed for a bowling date in December and a breakfast in January.

Mayville News
By Don Bennett

Friday, Nov. 17, Tom White and his Korean War soldier sculpture was very well presented in about a five-minute TV news segment on NECN. Besides the studio and Tom's work, Marcey White led the camera into their newly refurnished inn — new granite steps and fresh paint. Overall it was a first-class piece of TV production work showing off a side of Bethel one seldom sees or hears about in the Boston area.

There will be an open house showing of a new Mayville Junction residential condo on Saturday, Nov. 25, from 1 to 3 p.m. Refreshments will be available. Marge Finley of Re/MAX in the Mountains will be the showing agent and greeter.

The gas price yo-yo was at work this past week. Irving went up to $2.329 for a day or so and then dropped back to $2.279. The Bear River Trading Post gas price is $2.259 a gallon. Brooks Bros.' lowest heating oil price is $2.149 for cash sales.

Where was Mayville's first gas station? (To answer last week's Mayville News question.)

I had two calls about the gas station location question. One caller was Gloria Wilson who had the correct answer. The other welcome caller missed the gas station question but tipped me off about checking into the snowmobile bridge cost — my caller said that I was about a million short.

Back to the gas station: It was in front of my grandparents, Ed and Minnie Bennett's large home where years later stood the Red Rooster Motel, then the Redwood Motel and now is a lot owned by Savage Development. My uncle, Elmer Bennett, operated the station circa 1933 for about three years. The farm homestead burned down in 1936. Later the gas pumps were removed from their concrete island and stored in the "new" farm's tool shed and garage. As I can vaguely recall, the gas pumps indicated that they were Tydol pumps.

Tydol was also the brand of gas pumped at Brown's filling station on the corner of Church and Railroad Streets. Tydol promoted what they called the Flying "A" brand of gasoline. In 1945, gas prices at Brown's gas station were advertised as: Five gallons for 95 cents. I have no idea as to what "Bennett's Mayville Gas Station" prices were in 1934 but the gas station also served as B&B amenity.

My grandmother was well known for keeping "rooms for tourists." She papered and painted each room every spring.

And to go more deeply into the history of the first Mayville gas station's location, one should know that the house owned by the Bennett family in 1936, was the house where Revolutionary War soldier Eli Twitchell lived out his last years in the care of his grandson, Curatio Bartlett. The Bennett's bought the farm in 1914.

From a quick call with Ernest Angevine I picked up some additional Bethel area snowmobile history. Ernest said that his brother, Avery, bought a Polarix snowmobile early in Bethel's snowmobile era — probably 1959. P.H. Chadbourne & Co. had the first snowmobile dealership in Bethel. They sold Ski-Doo's. When Ernest began selling snowmobiles he first handled Bolens Husky's then the Scorpion snowmobiles. (Who remembers the Husky and the Scorpion? Find some answers on eBay.)

After Chadbourne's cancelled their dealership arrangement with Ski-Doo, Ernest acquired the dealership for Bethel. Ernest ran his sales and service agency from his machine shop on Main Street from the 1960s to the 1980s. The building was torn down when the Four Seasons Inn became the Victoria in the 1990s. Before Ernest's ownership of the building it had housed Bennett's Garage, Chevrolet Sales and Service.

Ernest said that as far as trail grooming was concerned in Bethel, Floyd "Tiny" Thurston created the first trail drag made up of a frame of two by fours and boards. Thurston lived in the house that is now the Briar Lea Inn. Although a Bethel snowmobile club formed in 1966, the first efforts to groom trails belonged to smaller neighborhood groups like, for instance the North West Bethel group of riders. If you had to break a new trail through relatively deep snow every time you wanted to ride, it did not take long to decide that a co-op grooming session would make riding more fun for all.

Snowmobilers — Please don't let your snowmobile experiences, mementos and photos vanish from local history. Please contact me if you have stories or photos to share — favorite trails and picnic sites. All such materials will be forwarded to the Bethel Historical Society as historical archive resources and be part of a Bethel Snowmobile Journal online.

Call 824-2094 or write to Donald Bennett, PO Box 763, Bethel, Maine 04217 or e-mail Donald@thebetheljournals.info. Or send materials to Randy Bennett, The Bethel Historical Society, PO Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217.

The Way I See It

by Sharon Bouchard

Sharon Bouchard's column is published by special arrangement with the Advertising Department

It's time once again to prepare the turkey and pumpkin pie for the Thanksgiving feast that will bring families and friends together to celebrate all that we have to be thankful for.

We all know that the idea of a Thanksgiving feast originated in 1621 when the Pilgrims, who had arrived in Plymouth, Massachusetts shared their table with the Wampanoag Indians to celebrate their survival and first harvest and to thank the Indians for helping them through their very hard first year.

That famous first feast included 56 settlers, which was the number of survivors of the original 102 who arrived a year earlier and 91 Indians. It is, however, doubtful that they had turkey and they definitely didn't have pumpkin pie.

It is known that the first American Thanksgiving did include fowl of some kind and they did call it turkey, but they called all guinea fowl turkey. Though wild turkeys did roam the woods, their numbers were not great and it is probably more likely that the Pilgrims ate ducks, pheasants and geese than turkey.

As for the pumpkin pies' absence, that's pretty easy to verify. Quite simply, there was no flour, therefore no crust. The flour supply that arrived with the Mayflower had been depleted months before and it would be several years later before the settlers grew wheat. So much for that tradition!

They did have boiled pumpkins though and I bet somewhere along the line as wheat became readily available someone figured out the pumpkin pie angle and squash became the boiled vegetable of choice.

That's my speculation, not actual history.

However, the pie may not have been part of any great Thanksgiving feasts held by the settlers because there is no documented evidence that such an occasion was ever held again.

I'm not surprised that the first great feast may have been the last when you consider the entire meal for 147 people was prepared by only four adult women and two teenage girls, which is all that remained of the female population that was old enough to cook.

We all know that the idea of a Thanksgiving feast originated in 1621...

Though I know that the Pilgrim women were not exactly liberated and talking back to the men was no doubt not acceptable behavior, if you consider the small number of women, I'm sure they had their ways of letting it be known they were not cooking for such a crowd ever again.

As for the turkey, it wasn't until 1854 that the big gobbler became the standard guest of honor for Thanksgiving dinner. Governor Bradford of the Plymouth settlement had documented that he had sent four men out fowling and they had come back with a number of turkeys. That document was lost and not rediscovered until 1854 and that launched the turkey tradition.

Another tradition associated with the Thanksgiving turkey is dealing with the abundance of leftovers. The roasted bird for the main meal is great and savored by most of the diners and cold turkey sandwiches the next day are wonderful. But, turkey in one form or the other for the next few days starts to get just a little tedious.

Because I have the most room at my house my children and their families come here for the dinner. I force some turkey on them to take home when they leave, but they only take enough for the traditional sandwiches. Apparently they don't want days of leftovers either.

So that leaves me and Henry to consume what probably amounts to 10 pounds of turkey. Day 1 - roast turkey, day 2 - turkey sandwiches, day 3 - turkey fricassee, day 4 - turkey sandwiches again, day 5 - turkey noodle soup and day 6 - turkey pie. For some reason I don't grow nearly as tired of the leftover desserts.

Anyway, here we are again about ready to cook another turkey and I'm looking as forward to it as ever. I do have a lot to be thankful for and having my family around me on this special occasion is one of them. I'm thankful for good health, a roof over my head, wonderful grandchildren and the ability to create the Thanksgiving feast. I'm also thankful that pumpkin pie eventually became part of the tradition because it is one of my favorites, and the way I see it, I'm even thankful for all the turkey leftovers.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish all of you a wonderful Thanksgiving and may your turkey be as tasty on the last day of its existence as it is on the first.

lected for the needy in the Thanksgiving spirit. Following the service a fellowship lunch was held in the church hall. Lionel and Jeanette Roy served an excellent warm veggie soup. Sandwiches and desserts were provided by the attendees. Residents from Malloway, Wilson Mills, Errol, Colebrook, Upton and Millsfield were present. All came together to enjoy the spirit of the day.

An emergency Planning Board meeting was held to set a time and date for a hearing on a request for a marina in Peasey Cove. The hearing has been posted for November 24 at the Municipal Building (school building). A regular Planning Board meeting will be held at 6 p.m. preceding the hearing.

The Ladies Aid Building has been decorated inside and out by Simone Lavalley and Sue Angevine. They have worked very hard preparing for the Jenkins Fund Christmas Party. Carol Norman has offered help to the ladies for future preparations.

I remember Thanksgiving Days when folks were ice skating on the lake. Not so this year! The lake is high and kayaking is more appropriate.

Best wishes to Sally Lavalley who is a patient at the Rumford Hospital. We all hope she will be home for Thanksgiving.

The "Bird of the Week" is definitely the turkey, be it free range or frozen Butterball. It will definitely be at almost everyone's "feeder" on Thanksgiving. The feeder of course being the dining room table. The turkey of course will be a frequent visitor at the feeder for about four days after Thanksgiving Day in the many ways to dispose of the carcass. Happy Thanksgiving to all of our readers.

West Bethel

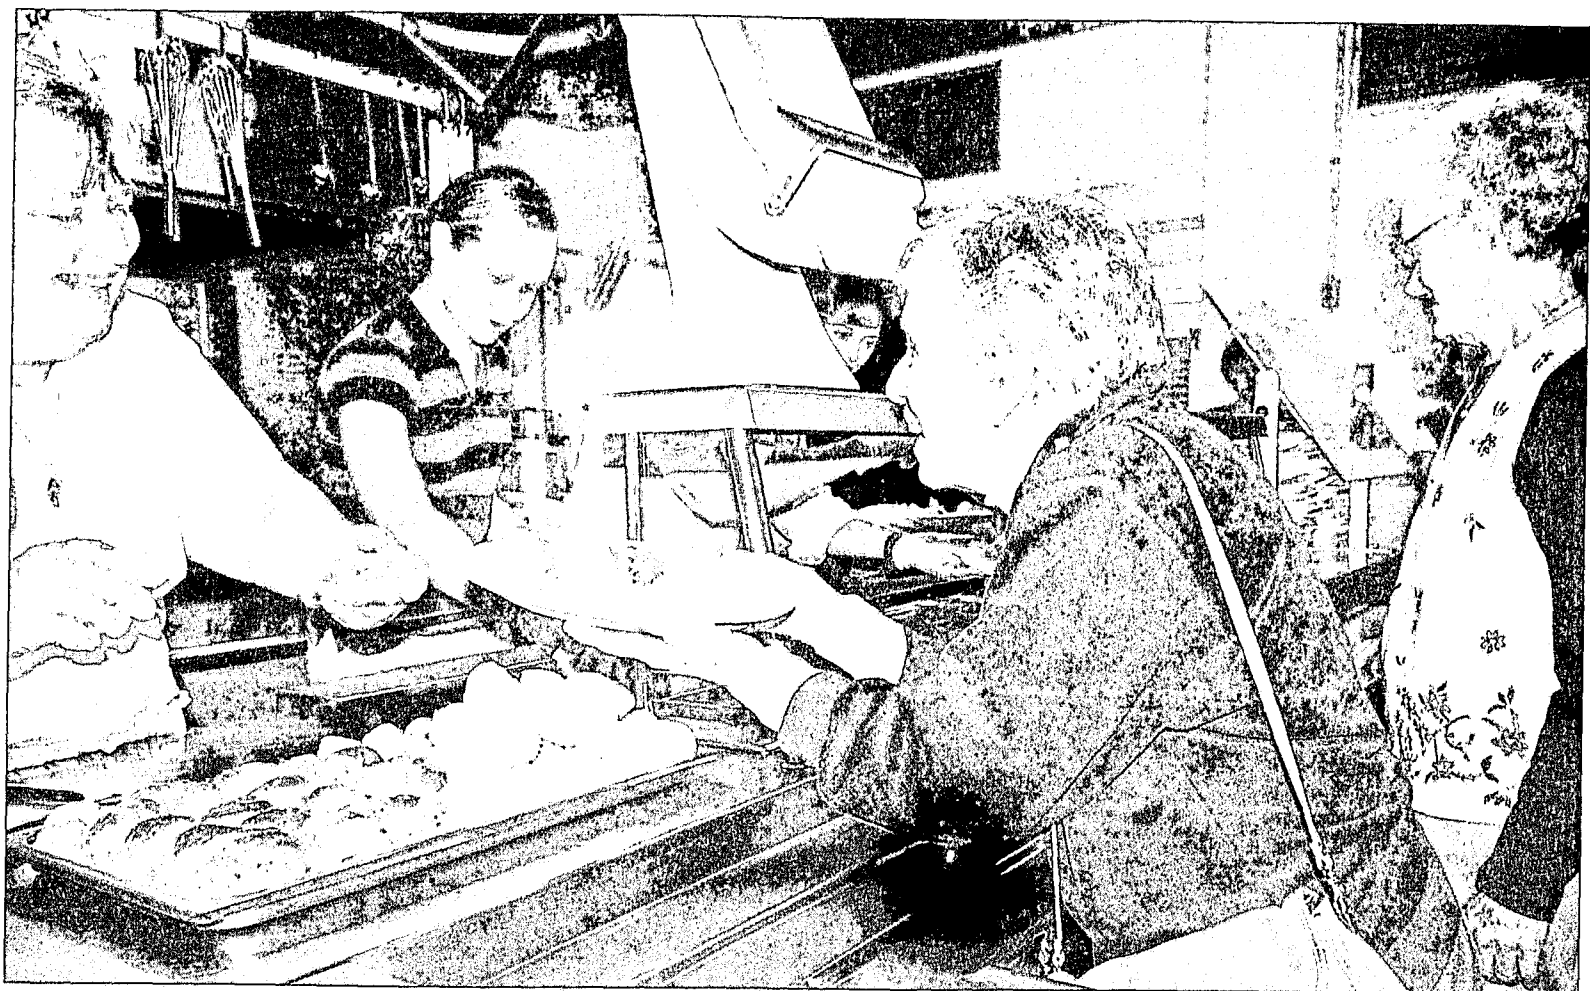

by Lorrie Hoeh

The rain stopped for a whole day and a half on Friday afternoon and Saturday, by golly. Then showers returned on Sunday. It's still not cold enough for snowmaking, at least as of Sunday evening. I hope we have more clear days and seasonal temperatures as the week progresses. A spring-like Thanksgiving just doesn't seem right.

Last Friday the Bethel Red Hatters enjoyed lunch at the Gideon Hastings House. Twenty-one red-hatted and purple-clad ladies made the rafters ring with their laughter and conversation, between bites of their delicious meals. There is talk of going bowling sometime in December, which should be great fun. Oxford Lanes will never be the same.

Mike and I headed to the Health Center Saturday morning for the flu clinic, scheduled for 9 to 11. When we arrived at 9:15, we were told that the last of the (only) 100 available doses was gone before 9, and Monday evening's scheduled clinic was cancelled as well. As near-

TURKEY AND THE FIXINS—Telstar High School's National Honor Society held its annual Thanksgiving Dinner for Senior Citizens Sunday at the school cafeteria. ly as I can find out, there is no shortage of vaccine, but there is clearly a problem somewhere, at some level, with the distribution system. It seems that commercial, for-profit retail establishments have no problem getting the stuff, but healthcare providers are getting the short end of the stick.

Logic would dictate that health clinics, physicians' offices, and hospitals should have first priority, followed by other entities. If you agree that the system is operating in a backwards fashion, please contact your senators, congressmen, the governor, and anyone else you can think of to try to get something done to change the system.

On Sunday afternoon, the Telstar High School National Honor Society chapter once again hosted a pre-Thanksgiving dinner for senior citizens who live in the SAD44 district. Over 100 guests were "wined and dined" in fine fashion and served lovingly and courteously by National Honor students. Verna Thayer drove Jane Hosterman and Marie Witter to the gathering, and all three ladies thoroughly enjoyed a sumptuous repast. Every guest received a numbered ticket at the door, and from time to time in the course of the meal, a number was called and one of many prizes donated by local businesses was awarded to the lucky holder. All in all, this event sounds like a wonderful tradition, one that warrants continuing forever.

Choir practice at the West Bethel Union Church is in full swing every Monday evening. After having had the summer months to recharge their vocal chords, members are once again trilling away in fine fashion. Don't forget that the Rev. Bell is holding adult Sunday School each week after coffee hour, open to all.

The Pleasant Valley Grange met a week early last Thursday, because of this week's holiday. The usual tasty potluck supper was enjoyed. This was followed by a spirited discussion of the ins and outs of the proposed painting of the second floor room. The prime (so to speak) consideration is deciding what is needed by way of preparation. That's the part I like the least about any paint job; the preliminaries aren't nearly as much fun as slapping on the new color.

Sandy Wheeler called to tell me that on Sunday, Nov. 19, she and her sisters hosted a gathering for more than 40 friends and extended family at the Rebel Restaurant to celebrate the upcoming holiday. Sandy, Alice, Bubba (Brenda), and Berta did most of the cooking right there at the Rebel, with many others pitching in to help. It sounds as if a rockin' good time was had by all. The family extends special thanks to Nina Wheeler for giving them the use of her restaurant for the day.

We'll be having a huge gang on Thanksgiving Day. There will be 26 of us at table(s). All three daughters and their families are joining us, as are cousins Eric and Lucia Schwarz; Peter, Kathy, Chris, and Nicholas Schwarz; Taylor Thompson, Val Uber, and their sons, Graham and Warren; and Bec-ca and Kendra Carter. The more, the merrier! Some of the grandchildren usually entertain us with some impromptu theatricals and/or music, something we all look forward to. This is my favorite holiday, because all that's required of me is to cook, which I love to do.

I am thankful for my beautiful family, good health, a comfortable home, good friends, and living in a caring community. To you and yours, I wish a very Happy Thanksgiving, wherever you are on the day. Remember to take time to count your blessings, and say a little prayer for our troops stationed in dangerous places, that they may return home alive and well as soon as possible.

Gilead

by Lin Chapman

Thanksgiving is upon us. It sounds like the weather will cooperate and give everyone a nice day to travel. Have a safe and happy holiday. It would be great if next week's column could be filled with news of what happened at Thanksgiving in Gilead.

My nephew, Brad McLain, was in the Mayville news last week when he helped fix the broken water main. This week he makes the Gilead news. Busy fellow! He was in town to help his dad, Steve McLain, finally put the woodpile to rest. They got most of it inside and stacked for easy access this winter.

I got an e-mail from Fran Head the other day to update what is happening on the mountain. Fran said that they have completed their move to Gilead, and it is wonderful on the mountain. Jonathan, Julia, Josh, Jeremy, Sheri, Crystelle and Jerome Head joined them for supper on Nov. 15, to help Grandpa celebrate his birthday and plan to join them for Thanksgiving dinner. Chris, Shannan, Jillian and Wyatt Thielbar are coming from Pepperell, Mass., and will spend the Thanksgiving holiday and celebrate Jillian's birthday there on Mountain Vista. Also joining them for dessert will be her mom and dad, Jim and Jean Hutchins, and her sister, Jean Kinum and family from New York.

Gilead Fire Department

The past couple of weekends, the GFD has been conducting training at the station. There have been members of the fire departments from the surrounding areas who have attended.

Gilead Historical Society

The newsletter is almost done and will be mailed out soon. There is a lot of information to get into this one, so we have increased the number of pages. The letters that the GHS received from Cindy Bennett, who is a direct descendant of the Gilead Peabody's, are quite interesting to read, but there are 13 of them. The fall newsletter will have excerpts from some of the letters and the rest will appear in future issues.

A very generous friend has donated an item to the GHS. It is a pipe auger that was used to drill holes in logs so they could be pieced together to create a pipe to carry water. Thank you Mr. Laban.

Got any news. Call 836-2987 or e-mail chapmal@hotmail.com.

Newry

When I stopped in at the Maine Line Products on Saturday, I found out that I had spelled Cathryn C. Lovejoy's first name wrong last week.

So this one is correct. She is the mother of Ellen and mother-in-law of Rick Whitney, who together run both the Bethel and Greenwood MLP stores. We had a very pleasant chat as I purchased a small item with the promise I would return again and then left for a bit of food shopping.

On Saturday I also went in to Books N Things to pick up an item I had ordered. Angelo J. Katsos of Andover, author of the book, "Music You Will Never Hear—A Modern Greek Tragedy," was there to meet people and sign his book.

I didn't purchase the book but did come home with a lovely book of his poetry. Very touching reflections of the Grafton Notch area, East B Hill locale and his musings on many things I find so important.

We had conversation about an area that is very dear to me. I plan on getting another book of poems as a gift to friends of mine who enjoy the out-of-doors and solitude. Good wishes to Angelo.

Gail and Gary Wight are grandparents for the first time. Their daughter, Jessie Wight and Hollis Pratt of Portland are new parents of Colby, who was born Tuesday evening, Nov. 14. Congratulations to all.

Another congratulations goes out to Amy Robertson who is mending so well that she will be back to work before the end of the week.

Hope everyone will have their fill of holiday goodies. Thus those who shop on the "day-after" will have the required energy to do so.

If anyone would like to rent the Grange for a holiday event, call the Town Office at 824-3123 for scheduling.

News from the Town Office: The Board of Selectmen meets on the first and third Monday of each month.

The Planning Board members meet on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Their agendas are posted at the Town Office. If you need more information about these meetings you may call the office at 824-3123.

All meetings at the Newry Town Office are open to the public.

Hanover

by Clem Worcester

Gardner Roberts Memorial Library Association will meet at the Hanover Town Office Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. on Nov. 26 for their annual meeting. Election of officers and trustees will take place and there will be discussions about progress of the library moving project as well as other issues.

Have you noticed the sign? The library fundraiser sign at the Town Office now has a red line all the way to the top indicating that the fundraising goal has been achieved. Mark Beaudoin of Brushmarx created the sign and adjusted the red line.

An elderly gentleman from Vermont has contacted the Hanover Town Office looking for someone to advise him about fishing in the Androscoggin River in this area. He recently passed through the locale and noticed the boat ramps and felt that there might be good fishing. Anyone who would like to assist him, please contact the Town Office so that we can get you together.

Anyone from Hanover who ordered popcorn from Cub Scout Keith Harrington can pick it up at the Hanover Town Office if you have not done so. When Keith was delivering popcorn from his sales some folks were not home.

The Hanover Select Board will convene for their monthly meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at 5 p.m.

Donna and Clem Worcester traveled to Gouldsboro on Sunday to attend a reception for Knights of Pythias Grand Chancellor George Zitaner and Grand Chief Colleen Stanley. Also attending from this area was Grand Vice Chancellor Freeman Farrington from East Andover.

We hope everyone is enjoying the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

Mason

by Richard Grover

Last Tuesday I was invited to attend a public meeting of the Oxford County Commissioners dedicated to a discussion of the county budget for the "unorganized townships." I was a bit surprised to learn that there are 10 unorganized (unincorporated) townships in Oxford County (Albany, Mason, Milton, Riley, South Arm, East B Hill, "C" Township, North Oxford, Andover North Surplus and Andover South Surplus). I was also surprised that seven or eight people representing a spectrum of these townships bothered to show up for the meeting; the commissioners were also surprised at the turnout.

The meeting got off to a bad start for "us civilians from the sticks." It was scheduled to begin at 10:30 a.m., and we were all still sitting in the hallway waiting at 11:10 a.m., getting more ticked off with each passing minute. Only after several of us opened the door and voiced our displeasure at being forced to wait so long, did they let us into the meeting room. All three commissioners, David Duguay, Jeff Fagan and Steve Merrill, apologized profusely and blamed an earlier meeting for the delay. From that point onward, the meeting was productive, informative and conducted in a relaxed and friendly manner.

ner. The total budget appropriation for fiscal year (FY) 2007-2008 is $741,799, of which $175,000 is for a contingent and capital reserve account. More than half of the remaining amount goes to maintenance of roads and bridges and snow plowing. One item of note was a large increase in the budget for fire protection, which has gone from $14,504 in the FY '05-06 budget to $57,000 in the FY '07-08 requested budget. The commissioners told us that was due largely to the town of Bethel increasing their fees for this protection to help pay for their new fire truck and expensive new fire station. They also pointed out that ambulance service for the unorganized townships gets expensive for the northern part of the county due to distance from the closest hospital or ambulances (Farmington for northern Oxford County). I also learned that we pay some $3,600 annually for land rental for a boat launching ramp and parking lot in "C" Township to provide public access to lakes there. Aren't we lucky we have the county and state of Maine to take care of us!

In other news, we made several trips to Norway last week to get rid of the cataract in Mona's right eye. There's the pre-surgery exam and interview with the doctor, the pre-op appointment at the hospital to get all the insurance papers and stuff like that in order, the surgery appointment at the hospital, and the "day after" appointment with the doctor at his office. With all said and done, though, Mona is very satisfied with the results in that eye; she says she can't wait until she can have the other eye done. Then, she'll probably only have to have glasses for reading. She also has nothing but praise beth Cooper, born on Nov. 4. Condolences to two Andover families this week. Former resident Florence Kraft died on Nov. 9 in Massachusetts. She has a son who lives in Andover, Thomas C. Brown. A memorial service will be held on Nov. 25 in Fitchburg, Mass.

Art Pingree passed away on Nov. 13. Graveside services were held on Friday at the Woodlawn Cemetery. Art is survived by his wife, Janet McPhee, a daughter, Kristina, and two sons, Davis and James.

Don't forget the Craft Fair coming up on Dec. 9 at the Fire Department.

Happy birthday this week-end to Whitney Mills (today), Brianne Bailey and Curtis Hughes Jr. on the 24th and Adam Mahar on the 25th.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Waterford

by Rockie Graham
Thanksgiving is upon us as the warm weather turns into seasonally cool. The warmth was great, although I could have done without the rains. Rain is good, but enough is enough and I hope we've seen the last of it. For now, I'm hoping for some sun.

When you read this, Dave and I will have returned from a mini vacation to visit friends. It was time. I haven't had any time off for two years. I think I'll take a series of two days off.

We attended the Waterford-Stoneham Lions Club meeting last week. It was held at AJ's in Stoneham. Many were not there because they were out of town already for the holiday week. They reported that the fundraiser for the Stefano Family in Stoneham raised over $12,000. It was a great dinner held at the Susan Curtis Campground. That seemed a totally appropriate place to hold it. It was a great evening with over 500 people in attendance.

There is a Community Thanksgiving Dinner this Thursday, Nov. 23, at the North Waterford Congregational Church. It is open to anyone. If interested contact the Rev. George Froberg at 693-6461.

Sunday, Nov. 26, the Bethel Rotary Club will hold a breakfast at Ordway Hall at Gould Academy. Tickets are $6 for adults and $3 for under 12. The breakfast is from 7:30 to 11 a.m.

Like everyone we are trying to find money for the holiday season. Chanukah is mid-December and Christmas the following week. I think we are all too hung up on presents and money for the holidays. They should be a time of giving of oneself and of family and friends getting together and enjoying each other's company. That is all I have to say about it, but think about it. Going into debt only makes the holidays even more stressful. Here's to peace for the holidays.

That is it for this week. Have a great Thanksgiving.

Bryant Pond

by Alice Hoyt

The Pinhook Meeting House Christmas tree will be lit on Friday, Nov. 24.

Bulbs in memory or honor of are available for $3 each by calling Norma Davis at 665-2281.

Services at the Baptist Church are Sunday School at 9:15 a.m., morning service at 10:30 a.m., choir practice at 5 p.m. and evening service at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 22, will be a Thanksgiving service at 6:30 p.m. Looking ahead -- on Saturday, Dec. 1, at 5 p.m. will be a soup and sandwich decorating night.

Judith Grover Tent 17 Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War met on Monday, Nov. 13, at the home of Alice Hoyt. Elsie Bonney was president. Eight members were present. The charter was draped for Past Department President Edith Pulkkinen.

Five new applications came in and were read. Four members attended the Veterans Day program at Locke Mills and two attended the program at West Paris. First nomination of officers was held. Elsie and Beth took the candy to South Paris Veterans' Home before Halloween. Money was sent to Togus for Christmas. The gifts for the Gift Shop were delivered earlier. Twenty calls were reported. Elsie Bonney received the mystery package. Next meeting will be Dec. 11 with second nomination of officers, Christmas exchange of gifts and tasting party.

The Woodstock-Greenwood Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, Dec. 7, at the American Legion Hall, Locke Mills. This is the Christmas Party. If you wish to exchange gifts, ladies each bring one for a lady and men each bring one for a man. Also, if you wish you can bring an item for the Food Pantry and gift for a child for Christmas for Kids. Cards may also be exchanged. Dinner will be put on by the Legion ladies. The meeting will start at 11:30 a.m. with election of officers.

Sympathy is extended to the Coffin family in the loss of their brother.

The Woodstock Extension met Wednesday afternoon at the Town Annex. The program was about how to put more fruits and vegetables in your diet. Next meeting will be a Christmas Party at Alice Hoyt's on Dec. 20.

The winner of the cord of wood the Senior Citizens sold was Heidi Inman.

Historical Society

At the November meeting of the Woodstock Historical Society, Paul and Vicki Billings showed a video of East Bethel. It featured the Hastings' farm, three generations of the family, dairy farming, hard work and occasional depression. The members decided to buy T-shirts during the business meeting. And Olive Risko gave a research report on Oliver Hudson Kelly, who helped to found the Grange. Vicki Billings and Ruth Cox supplied the refreshments.

Paul and Vicki Billings have supplied some good videos for the programs so far this year. Much thanks. The December meeting will be a potluck supper at 6 p.m. followed by a Christmas Party with exchange of gifts and cards.

The Historical Society Museum is a fine place to visit and for everyone to enjoy. They offer activities and programs of good quality and interest for everyone. This winter they meet at the town community room the second Saturday of each month at 7 p.m. Come join them.

From Bethel Historical Society's Regional History Center

Once again the Bethel Historical Society will be sponsoring its annual New Year's Bethel, a family oriented, chemical free event on Dec. 31 in Bethel Hill Village. This 9th annual celebration is expected to be an exciting time for all ages. Performers in 2006 include, George Saterial, magician, the Maine Kanteles, a group ten women from western and central Maine playing the kantele, a traditional Finnish lap-harp, the always popular State Street Traditional Jazz Band, Maine humorist Henry Bascomb (a.k.a. Chaitanya York), Spring Creek, a four-member group with an entertaining toe-tapping selection of bluegrass music, and finally Ti-Acadie, a three-member band who will call and accompany an evening of contra dancing.

Venues will include Gould Academy's Bingham Auditorium and Bingham Gym plus the West Parish Congregational Church and the Nazarene Church, so there should be plenty of room for everyone. Once more there will be marshmallow roasting on the town common and hospitality and refreshments offered at the Dr. Moses Mason House meeting room throughout the evening until just before midnight when visitors will be encouraged to bring their bells (sleigh, horse, school, etc.) to officially ring 2007 in at the town clock on Main Street.

Sponsors are once again being sought to support this event. Categories for individuals range from Patron ($200 or more), to Backer ($100) or Contributor (under $100). Business sponsorship is also available ($250 or more). "Gifts in Kind" are also welcomed as well. Among the business sponsors to date are Goodwin's Contribu-tors include Hi and Mary Lou Berry, Newry; C.P. Longley, Albany; Nancy Mercer, Beth-el; Jack and Lucy Nordahl, Bethel; Jean Owen, Bethel; Eric and Lucia Schwarz, Beth-el, Janet and Dexter Stowell, Bethel.

Much appreciation is ex-pressed to all of the above for their support of this event. Anyone wishing to become a sponsor can call the society at 824-2908 or (800) 824-2910 or send it to P.O. Box 12, Bethel, ME 04217-0012. All contribu-tions are deductible as allow-able by law.

With nearly 1,400 members, the Bethel Historical Society, founded in 1966, is western Maine's largest and most com-prehensive full-time historical agency, dedicated to collect-ing, preserving, and interpret-ing the regional past for pres-ent and future generations. For forty years, the society's activities have included lec-tures, exhibits, special events, heritage festivals, workshops, conferences, school and edu-cational programs, and publi-cations.

From
Bethel Senior Citizens

Members of the Bethel Se-nior Citizens Club will be treated to a Christmas Lun-cheon of marinated roast pork and all the fixings at their Gala Christmas Party to be held at the Bethel Inn on Wednesday, Dec. 13 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m.

This year's party was planned at noon to accommo-date members who did not wish to drive at night.

Members may bring guests who will be charged a non-member fee. However, res-ervations for members and guests "must" be made by Nov. 29 by calling Dorothy York at 824-2093 or Mary Paine at 824-2822.

Members are asked to join the fun by arriving by 11 a.m. when the Banjo Band will be entertaining.

Following the noon lun-cheon, a "special Santa" will entertain and distribute gifts while the Banjo Band contin-ues to play.

To add to the fun, all mem-bers and guests are asked to bring a $5 wrapped gift, marked woman or man, for Santa to distribute.

From
Telstar Middle School

Doug Wilhelm, author of "The Revealers," Telstar Mid-dle School's first Commu-nity Read selection, will be in Bethel on Nov. 30. All stu-dents in Telstar Middle School have taken part in reading this great book in their litera-ture groups, participated in a school wide blog site answer-ing and conversing about is-sues surrounding the topic of bullying and some have even created skits about the book that may be shared on Nov. 30. Many parents have also read "The Revealers" with their child.

Wilhelm joins us for an eve-ning of discussion and en-lightenment surrounding his book, a dynamic story of how three adolescents with three different stories decide to fight back against the bullying that occurs in their school. He will also be autographing the books that students were giv-en as a part of the Telstar Mid-dle School Community Read. Please come join us for a great evening. The program will be-gin at 7 p.m. in the Helen C. Berry Auditorium.

It's always wise to call ahead
Listings in The Citizen's weekly Community Calendar are compiled from a wide variety of sources. While we do our utmost to ensure the reliability of the information presented here, we recognize that when dealing with such a large volume of material, some inaccuracies will occasionally creep in. And in other cases, a sponsoring organization's plans may change between the time The Citizen is printed and the event is held. Accordingly, we strongly urge our readers to call ahead to verify the details of any event they plan to attend. Doing so will greatly reduce the chance of disappointment or needless inconvenience.

REAL ESTATE AND YOU
WIN-WIN AGREEMENTS

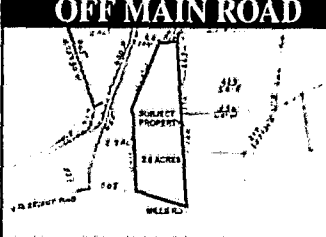

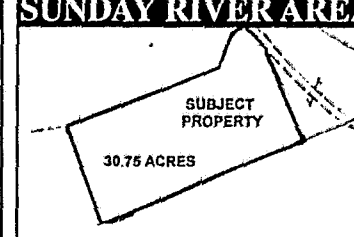

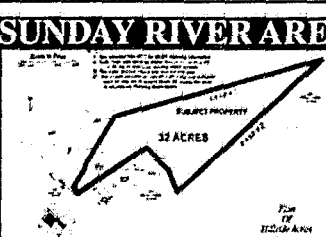

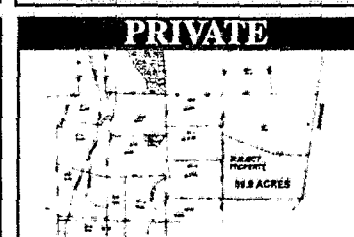

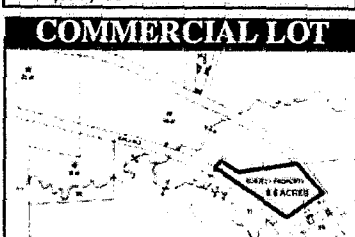

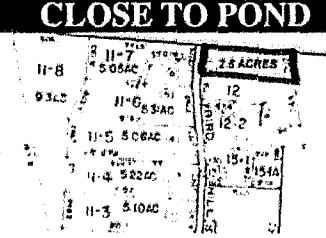

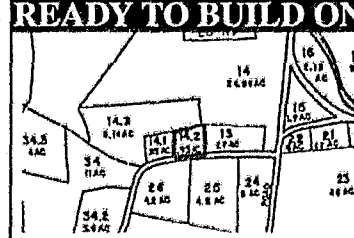

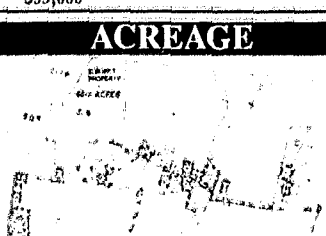

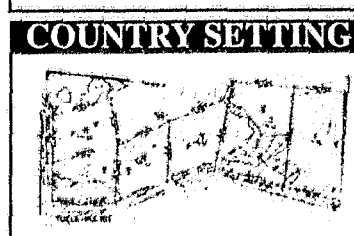

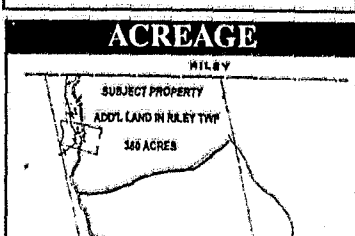

When you are ready to negotiate a home purchase agreement, it's important to remember that a successful negotiation does not necessarily mean everyone gets what they want and no one goes home disappointed. "Win-win" is an easily misunderstood term. In a real-life "win-win" situation, some compromises are inevitable in the process of all parties coming to a fundamental agreement. The secret to negotiating a satisfactory purchase contract is to expect to make some concessions at the bargaining table.

Approach the meeting with a positive, open-minded attitude. Try to listen and stay sensitive to the other's point of view. Be clear about your priorities, but don't expect to prevail on every point. The more you remain flexible, the better your chance for a fair compromise. Stay focused on what you feel is truly important. Too often negotiations break down because people become fixated on issues of lesser consequence. When you become stuck on a point of contention as minor as the cost of painting the picket fence, be willing to split the difference. Above all, trust your real estate agent, who has the expertise to bring the proceedings to a happy resolution.

Before Buying a Home!

Where do you start when you are ready to buy a home? Before you begin looking for a home, you have to make some decisions. You need to decide what is important to you when purchasing your home. Before starting out on your home search it is a good idea to sit down and develop a list of what is important and what would you like in your new home. Your list could include schools, neighborhood, amenities, number of bedrooms, number of baths, a basement, a separate dining room, 2-story family room or foyer, one level ranch plan, master bedroom on the main level, special financing, seller willing to cover closing costs and the list goes on and on.

An experienced buyer real estate agent can help you through the process. There is no such thing as a perfect house, therefore once you have developed your list you should begin to prioritize it. You can prioritize into, must have, should have and would be nice to have. By having a clear understanding what you want in your new home, and the priority of those items, you will be in a much better position to decide whether you want to put an offer on a house you see and like. It is also a good idea to consider whether you want to purchase a new or pre-owned home.

Obituaries

MARILYN E. B. BELL

Marilyn Evans Ballard Bell, 75, of Fryeburg died on Nov. 11, 2006.

Although her lifetime accomplishments were many, none were more important to her than love of family. She was passionate about the Boston Red Sox and New England Patriots, and enjoyed knitting while watching them.

She lovingly leaves four daughters and their husbands, Holly and Henry Foster of Fryeburg, Tracy and John Mason of Bethel, Kelly and Greg Lloyd of Fryeburg and Wendy and Paul Chaplin of Warrensburg, Mo.; six grandchildren, Trisha and Tasha Foster, Cassandra Mason, Brady Lloyd, Marissa and Corey Chaplin; and her dear friend, William Dame of Fryeburg.

A Remembrance of Life will be shared at 1 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 26, at the Masonic Hall, Portland Street, Fryeburg. In lieu of flowers, please make a donation in Marilyn's name to the Hospice House, 236 Stetson Road, Auburn, ME 04210, or to Fryeburg Rescue, P.O. Box 177, Fryeburg, ME 04037.

ELEANOR F. NELSON

Eleanor F. Nelson, 80, a lifelong resident of Stoneham, died Thursday, Nov. 16, 2006 at Stephens Memorial Hospital, Norway, surrounded by her loving family.

She was born Aug. 12, 1926 in Rumford, the daughter of John and Ethel Adams Files. She attended elementary school in Stoneham and graduated from Norway High School in 1944. She also attended Bliss College of Business in Lewiston.

On Feb. 22, 1950 she married Albert E. Nelson, Sr., also of Stoneham.

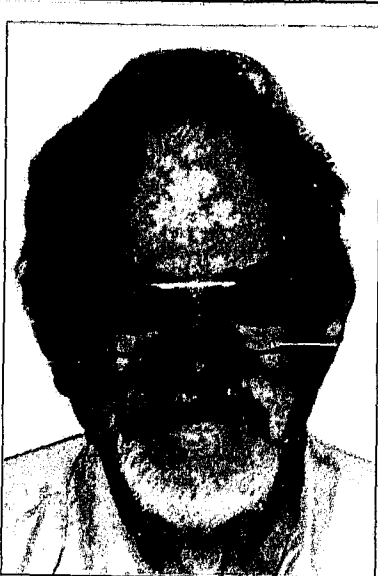

She worked most of her life in the office at various businesses including B.E. Cole Shoe Co., Northern Cumberland Memorial Hospital in Bridgton, Camp Susan Curtis, Norway Footwear and Evergreen Valley Inn. She was very involved in her community through various organizations including her membership in the Congregational Church in Stoneham, where she donated countless hours in its fundraising efforts. She was a charter member of the Stoneham/Waterford Lions Club, Daughters of Union Veterans, Oxford County Republican Committee, Stoneham Planning Board, correspondent for the Advertiser Democrat and the Bethel Citizen, North Waterford Friendly Citizens, Stoneham Knight Riders Snowmobile Club, and a former member of the Kezar Lake Grange 440 in North Lovell.

She was a devoted wife, mother and grandmother to her family who also enjoyed snowmobiling, helping in town affairs and time spent at her camp in Wilson's Mills.

She is survived by her four children, Sharon Berman and her husband Howard of Belmont, Mass., Cheryl Barnard and her husband Paul of Seaford, Va., Albert Nelson, Jr. and his wife Cathy of Stoneham and Dale Nelson and his wife Kitty of Lovell; a sister, Frances Grant of Stoneham; a sister-in-law, Geneva Tripp of Stoneham; 10 grandchildren, Aisha, Jaffer and Nawal Traish, Joshua, Jenna and Lindsey Barnard, Eric Nelson and his fiancée Erin Specht, Troy Nelson, Molly and Matthew Nelson; and a cousin, Wilma Taylor of Norway. She was predeceased by her parents; her husband Albert, Sr. on Aug. 14, 2006; a sister, Doris Files; and two brothers, Donald Files and John Files, Jr.

Funeral services were held on Monday, Nov. 20 at Stoneham Congregational Church with the Rev. George Frobigh officiating. Interment followed at Hillside Cemetery in Stoneham. Gifts may be given to the East Stoneham Congregational Church, Box 24, Stoneham, ME 04231 or the Norway Rehabilitation and Living Center's resident activity fund, 29 Marion Avenue, Norway, ME 04268. Online condolences may be shared with her family at www.westonchandler.com.

JOHN KENDALL BROWN

John Kendall Brown, 77, of Bethel, died in Norway on Nov. 19, 2006.

He was born in Bethel on May 25, 1929 the son of Carl Leslie and Ruth Isabel (Mason) Brown. He attended Bethel schools and graduated from Gould Academy in 1947.

John worked in the publishing business most of his life. He served as editor of the Bethel Citizen from 1963-1986 and in recent years, until 2004, wrote a column for the Citizen.

He was a member of the Bethel United Methodist Church, served on the SAD44 School Board for more than 30 years and was a selectman in Bethel for many years. He was a history buff and an avid baseball fan.

John is survived by his former wife and mother of his children, Beth Awalt of Lewiston; three sons, Daryl Robert Brown and his wife Debbie of Old Town, Michael Brown and his companion Alice Cooper of Turner and Eric Brown and his wife Ellen of Turner; a brother, Irving Brown of Bethel; 10 grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren. He was predeceased by two sons, Neal Brown and Kevin Brown; and four brothers, Donald Seth Brown, Edwin Lesley Brown, Stanley Loren Brown and Robert Mason Brown.

Memorial services will be held at the Bethel United Methodist Church on Saturday, Nov. 25, at 11 a.m.

Births

Sarah Villanueva of Bethel and Luis Villanueva from Durango, Mexico are proud to announce the birth of a baby girl, Kamilah Alexa Villanueva, born Aug. 10, 2006 in Cottonwood, Ariz., weighing 8 pounds, 9.5 ounces.

Maternal grandparents are Sue Howe, Warren Tibbetts, and Joseph Vedella.

ADDENDUM: FLORENCE M. KRAFT OBITUARY

The following corrections or additions have been submitted for the obituary for Florence Mary (Brown) Dickinson Kraft published in last week's Citizen (Nov. 16, 2006).

She died on Thursday, Nov. 9, 2006 at River Terrace Health Care Center in Lancaster, Mass.

While living in Andover, she attended the First Congregational Church. A proud Scottish-American, she was a life member of the Saint Andrews Society of Maine and for some years was on the Patrons Committee at their Maine Highland Games.

Her father, Thomas C. Brown, held a Ph.D.,

After retirement she lived in Andover and then Westminster, Mass. and Gardner, Mass., summering in Andover. She also lived in Andover again before going to Lunenburg, Mass.

Correct names in the list of survivors are: son, John E. Dickinson and daughter, Marian.

Her first husband, who predeceased her, was the Rev. Leon A. Dickinson, Jr. She was also predeceased by her sister, Major Jessie Brown.

In Loving Memory
